PSALM 150

Praise the Lord!
praise God in His sanctuary!
praise Him in His mighty heavens!
praise Him for His acts of surpassing
praise Him with trumpets, greatness.
praise Him with harps and lyres.
praise Him with drums and dancing.
praise Him with harps and flutes.
praise Him with loud cymbals.
praise Him with loud sounding
praise the Lord all cymbals
living creatures!
Praise the Lord!

DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to a team

Howard and Ruth Dunlap

Both have pastor's collings—
Ruth in the home
(when the five were small),
Howard in the church,
And wherever they are.

Both believe in the importance of education
And have sacrificed
willingly for it.

Both have served our beloved College in the Alumni/Church Relations office—Howard as developer and director
since 1978,
and Ruth as secretary
since 1979.

We will miss your joyous Christ consciousness and spiritual vitality.
You are a great team!

PSALM 150

Praise the Lord.
Praise God in his sanctuary,
praise him in his mighty heavens.
Praise him for his acts of power;
praise him for his surpassing greatness.
Praise him with the sounding of the trumpet,
praise him with the harp and lyre,
Praise him with tambourine and dancing,
praise him with the strings and flute,
Praise him with the clash of cymbals,
praise him with resounding cymbals.
Let everything that has breath
praise the Lord.

Eighty Years

Can you imagine having to ask the Dean if you can go out on a date or even speak to a member of the opposite sex? Well, that's the way it was in the early years here at FWBI/FWBC.

TOP LEFT: As we were before, the Institute (FWBI) graduated to a College (FWBC).

of Praise

1984-1985

Fort Wayne
Bible College

This year, the 80th Anniversary came in with a celebration of God's blessings. Over the years, FWBC has expanded to become what it is today. Praise the Lord for His faithfulness.

Good News Is Hard To Keep.

FWBC Accredited by North Central

February 27 was an unusual day. Not often is a special all-school meeting called at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with a party following.

The afternoon marked the favorable recommendation of the evaluation team regarding the College's receiving accreditation from North Central Association when their committee meets in June.

The College has had candidate status since January 1983. No one knows exactly how many hours appointed committees have worked on policies, documents, curriculum, finances, and other concerns. But the pain of the labor of the past two years has been forgotten in the pleasure of the commendation for work well done.

IN MEMORIAM

We lovingly remember . . .

William Forest Weddle
1907-1984

Dr. Weddle

Forever a student—

All God's world was interesting to him,
the revealed Word and the created world.
He loved to study everything.
And he used well God's gifts of brilliance
and almost total recall.

Forever a teacher—

Clear presentations and a holy patience characterized his classroom work.
He delighted in teaching the intricacies of Biblical backgrounds, archeology, mathematics, and many other subjects,
and all with a bit of sly wit
and gentle humor.

Forever a part of Fort Wayne Bible College—

Hundreds of alumni remember the impact of his simple yet deep and reverent explanations of the Scriptures.
His fair mindedness, good judgment,
and genuine concern for the College have helped to shape it.

This Is More Than Just A

UPPER LEFT: Egg-xactly what she wanted! Missi Huber proudly shows off her eggchild.
UPPER MIDDLE: Is anybody in there? Eric Hancock decides to take part in a psychology class egg-periment.
UPPER RIGHT: Sharon Mejeur communicates important business perspectives.

Classroom

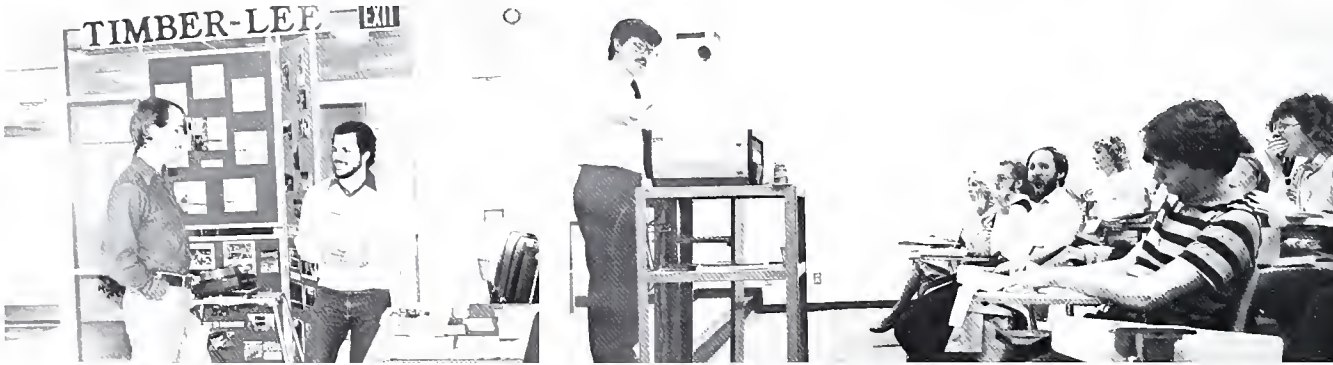

Application, application, application! Students may forget some of the textbook facts, but most of the practical learning experiences will remain for a long time to come. Classrooms offered guest speakers ranging from an Israeli journalist to a missionary on furlough sharing his joy of the mission field. Some students learned about respansibility and commitment through caring for an egg. Other students learned while observing a five-year old's reaction to various toys and books. Every pastoral ministry major will remember the challenge and the benefit of a role-playing situation. Each student leaves with a new awareness of the world around him.

TOP: "Are you with me?" Professor Roger Ringenberg takes his class on Paul's first missionary journey. MIDDLE: Professor Biberstein seems amused (or embarrassed?) by the pastoral counsel given by student Gregory Peck in a role playing session in Pastoral Theology class. BOTTOM: Guest speaker Zionist Gavriel Strasman and student Donovan Coley stay awhile after history class to discuss the apartheid situation in South Africa.

RELATING TO MAJORS

TOP LEFT: Tony Miller discusses job opportunities with Gary Burdick. TOP RIGHT: Counseling class. MIDDLE LEFT: Business & Education majors give Super Merv a birthday party. MIDDLE: Pastoral theology class. MIDDLE RIGHT: Kevin Abbott reviews for a "quiz." ABOVE: Rich Andrews computes a music assignment. BOTTOM LEFT: Corole Demond gives instruction with video equipment. BOTTOM RIGHT: Ston Nussbaum in Missions class.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE:

TOP LEFT. Secretaries Lorraine Meek and Bev Free. TOP RIGHT. Director Joy Gerig counsels Mark Pyles on career choices. BOTTOM LEFT: Rose Ann Nickel, IMC Director, reviews Don Larson's CS project with him. BOTTOM RIGHT: Assistant Director, Dick Boxter shows Ted Wilson the Helps File

Not only does the Christian Service Department provide FWBC students with opportunities for participation in local ministries, but they also offer other valuable services: guidance in summer internship programs, career choices, resume writing, tips for successful interviews, and numerous other services. The CS Department is directed by Joy Gerig, with Assistant Director, Dick Baxter and secretaries Lorraine Meek and Bev Free.

HIS COMPANY SUMMER '84

"The 1984 summer HIS Company drama and music troupe traveled through a total of 10 states, ranging from Nebraska to Pennsylvania. The location of performances ranged anywhere from churches to prisons. The prisons were my favorite, although they were a challenge. The troupe had a two week concentrated practice, rehearsing for eight hours a day, six days a week. The tour itself was ten weeks long, including a one week vacation. It was a valuable learning experience." Joyce Klay

"Discovery, a six member mixed ensemble, traveled 3 out of 4 weekends to churches in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio, singing about the love of Jesus and what He means to them. Through the opportunities of worship services, youth meetings, chapel and Youth Conference, the group was able to share their discovery of who Jesus Christ is. The members of Discovery also had many opportunities to grow both together and personally in the Lord as they shared the mutual goal of glorifying the Lord Jesus." Kevin March

COMMON BOND

Common Bond, a five member CS group, which toured several states and performed in churches and at retreats, gave part of their program in chapel. They began with a short skit and then proceeded to share in song and testimony.

HIS COMPANY

HIS Company, a six member group, directed by Miss Sonja Strahm, performed the play "No More Precious Gift." The drama begins with David, the shepherd boy, being sent to play his harp for King Saul.

David becomes friends with Saul's son, Jonathan, and marries Saul's daughter, Michal. Saul is angered and fears that he will lose his kingdom. The story ends with Saul's death and David king of Israel.

 Public Information Officers: J. Hughes, S. Gerig
 Student Directors: T. Lichtenberger, T. Sordelet

The unity of the group was special—lots of laughter. Partly because we felt so outgoing, the churches opened up their arms to us, and the receptions were warm. The Holy Spirit gave us the energy for a spirit of praise even when we were tired. Several times we noticed that our best concerts were given when we were most tired. The spring tour (March 8-17) took us to twelve churches in four states (Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, and Missouri.)

TOP: Sharon Gerig, Cindy Yeagley, Angie Pridmore, Lori Wilka, and Dan Potter start the craziness before the vans pull out of the parking lot. TOP RIGHT: The sign Scott holds does not refer to his character: it was a communication to another van saying that Heather Lehman had seen one (1) pig also. LEFT: A send-off song instigated by Dan Potter and Angie Pridmore, "Joy is the flag flown high from the castle of my heart." RIGHT: David Williams lets off steam at the afternoon bowl in Peoria.

FWBC BAND

Enjoys Lighter Schedule

Band members have really enjoyed the year. Public performances were fewer and the pace was relaxed. The concerts given were a Christmas Concert, Pops 'N Pizza, one band chapel, and the Spring Concert, plus participation in the All-City Band Festival at the Performing Arts Center in January.

The "Entertainer" in PDQ Bach style, done for Pops 'N Pizza was a favorite selection. Others were "Patriots," a march to pull out all the stops on, and of course the perennial "Sleigh Ride" with its happy sound effects.

SECOND: Donna Rediger, Trudy Holloway, Judy Cuckler

CHARLES

TONY CAMPOLO:

A Burr Under the Saddle

Tony Campolo spoke of himself as a "burr under the saddle of comfortable Christians." In the two days of Staley Lectures he considered the Christian's relation to culture, economics, the state, the poor, etc. "The Church has trained you to read the New Testament with American values," he said.

Besides asking us to think in terms of the world, he urged us "as a school to be what no other school is: a place where people take care of one another's needs." One student during the question session was given a directive to help this happen in cases of financial need.

TOP: Tony Compolo held our attention. ABOVE: Phil Reynolds, following Campolo's informative message, asks how we can stay better informed. RIGHT: Students were eager to continue the discussion.

IDEAS FROM CAMPOLO'S LECTURES: "I know something about you—down deep inside you want to do something heroic for the Kingdom. Don't lose the vision."

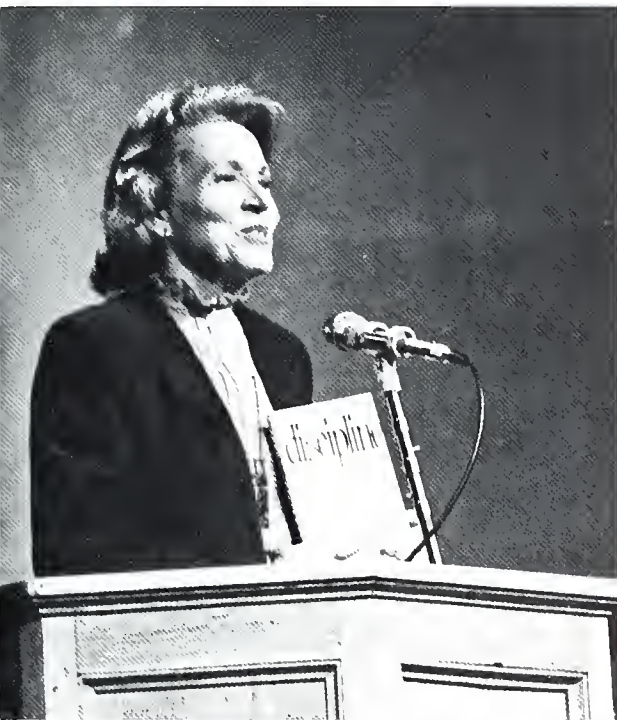

"It is important that you stay in school and serve at the same time. Tension is a good state to be in. There is a chance for balance then."

"I want a youth group whose hearts are broken by what Jesus' heart is broken by."

"Subjectively never decide on your own. The Church is full of lone rangers. We need brothers and sisters in Christ to keep us from rationalizing."

ELISABETH ELLIOT/JONI

Life Stories of Courage

LEFT: Elliot whetted our appetites for several of her recent books. Tony Trejo gets his book autographed. BELOW: Joni, miracle of God's grace.

Betty Elliot saved the great story of the mission to the Aucas for the evening session and instead talked to us about our love life. "What do you do if your passions aren't natural?" ANSWER: "The same thing you do when your passions are natural: you turn them over to the Lord." "The passions are a crucial battle ground," she said.

Joni Eareckson Tada gave us a model of courage with her humorous but poignant stories of her problems and her relationship with the Lord in them all. She caused us to consider the quality of our own lives.

"God's word is sure," she said. "Jesus Christ is enough." Joni made joy visible.

SPIRITUAL EMPHASIS:

On "Finding the will of God"

DON HAMM—God never uses an idle person to do his will. He doesn't choose from off the shelf.

Desire God's will.

Discover God's will.

Do God's will.

The bottom line is "Get involved."

KEITH VINCENT—How I am finding God's will is my topic. It starts with Christ as Lord. "You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart." (Jer. 29:13) Approach in faith. Learn to live with questions. Know your spiritual gifts. Get the counsel of competent people.

JOAN MAYERS—God wants us to know his will more than we wish to know it. We have a terrible tendency to believe that the big stuff is God's business and the little stuff is our business. In reality the little decisions turn out in the end to be the big ones. Life by the mile is a trial; life by the yard is hard; life by the inch is a cinch.

RUTH DUNLAP—By the cherry tree I heard God's voice. "Ruth, I am calling you to preach the gospel." Good counsel said, "If that's what the Lord wants, you'd better do it." My congregation became five little Dunlaps.

BILL GERIG—Trust and obey. Don't trust your own ability. Relax in God. Don't say too much about your future, for there are periods of fog in knowing God's will. But know the will of God for you today. Today it is to listen in chapel.

FRED VANDYKE—Finding God's will is more of repentance than of confidence. A holy person taught me to say "Lord Jesus, I have found the way of the cross better than any other way. I want to follow you. Help me follow you." Then I won't have to worry about finding God's will—it's going to find me.

MARLENE EVERSON—I got brave and asked the Lord to show me my weaknesses. I never knew I had so many! I had to learn to "lean on Jesus." (Testimony came through these songs: "Trusting is believing he could care for you" and "I am willing, Lord, to be exactly what you want me to be.")

CHAPEL:

Opportunity to Serve in Worship

FAR LEFT: James gets a pot on the back from his homiletics prof.

FWBC Falls Into

Fall Campus Days brought pastors, career persons, and parents to BC on October 11, 12, 13. Career day provided opportunity for the students to gather information from various seminars and organizations. Parent's day brought many parents to FWBC to spend time with their college student, watch a Falcon soccer game, visit the dorms, and attend Fantasia—a fun variety show put on by the students.

The Jr.-Sr. Banquet on April 15, provided a time of reflecting on past school years and sharing present joys. Students and faculty could have pictures taken by Greg Sawles before the banquet. Hall's Restaurant catered a hearty meal of baked chicken and beef, topped off with chocolate cake. Junior Kevin Schwartz served as emcee for the evening, opening with a "Senior Raast." The entertainment was provided by "Sonlight," who shared not only in song, but also with meaningful stories reflecting Christian commitment. In closing, each senior was presented a lavender rose.

YC '85 MASTER

COLOSSIANS

This year's Youth Conference was filled with fun, activities, hilarity on stage (Janna Schlatter/Ran Williams) and a great guest speaker, Jimmy Johnson.

Jimmy, the Senior Pastor of the First Wesleyan Church in Bartlesville, Oklahoma, came to us with a dynamic personality and good news about Jesus Christ.

Special activities, such as Heavy Light, Master Peace and Comicality, combined with Jimmy Johnson, made YC '85 a special time.

Youth Conference Theme Song "Master's Mind"

I want the Master's mind
to love, to live, to find the things of heaven
I can see, to them
no longer blind.
I want the Master's mind
in Christ to sin I've died
Be Lord of all I say and do
I want the Master's mind.

ELECTION YEAR

Political Awareness Committee Formed

To help students participate in the election process a bipartisan group, calling themselves the Political Awareness Committee, formed in the fall. The group consisting of Ron Williams, Angie Binkley, Mike Moellering, and Lonnie Powell, with Sharon Mejeur as coordinator, met on Wednesdays over lunch to plan strategies. Some outcomes were the presentation of the Party Platforms, the registering of 136 students, involvement of 10% of the student body in precinct work, and a mock election in cooperation with Student Government.

NATIONAL TOURNAMENT

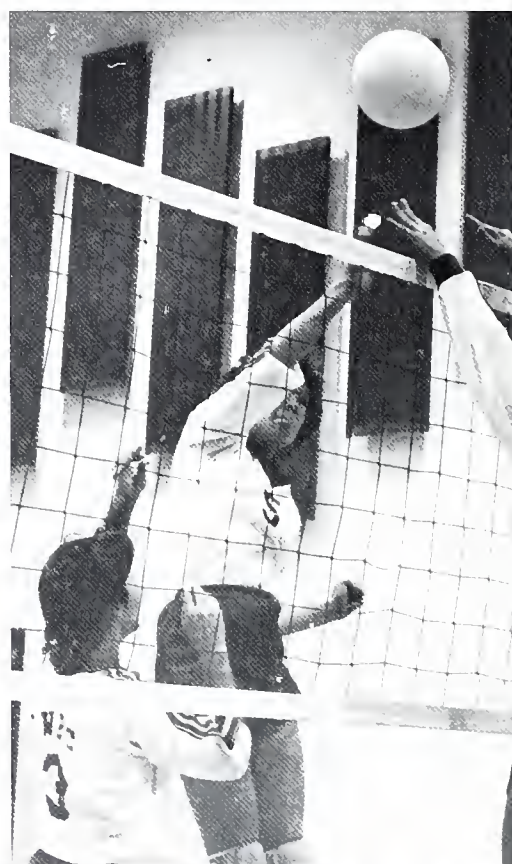

Once again I am able to say that the 1984 season was the most successful in the history of our soccer program. The accomplishments for the year include an overall record of 16 wins and 5 losses, NCCAA District III champions, and a fourth place finish in the national finals in Toccoa Falls, Georgia. A number of players were recognized as outstanding including Stuart Zurcher, Graham West, and Jim Hughes who were appointed to the all-district team. Jim Hughes and Graham West were also appointed as first team All-Americans. These are the first two players in the history of our soccer program to receive first-team All-American status. Nearly every individual and team record was broken during the season. While the year was a success in terms of statistics, it was also a blessing to associate with a group of young men who are committed to the Lord and who truly demonstrated their desire to glorify God through their play. The opportunity to be involved in soccer has been a special privilege and the memories are sweet.

Winning Regionals in Wisconsin was a great way to finish up the season and for the five seniors on the team, an excellent last college volleyball season. What made the difference? 1) Experience as individuals and as working together as a team to develop a sixth sense in that regard. 2) Learning from each other on and off the court. 3) Working to do their best. 4) A genuine desire to glorify the Lord Jesus Christ through their athletic talents. We are very grateful that He blessed us with a very successful season.

The 1984-85 basketball season was approached with great anticipation. Four seniors from last year's team returned, another player had regained eligibility, and four new faces joined the team. The outlook was bright indeed. However, inconsistency plagued the Falcons all year. The Falcons hovered around the .500 mark until January, then a 6 game winning streak. A 4 game losing streak followed, the last loss to Kentucky Christian at Regionals, leaving FWBC with a record of 12-9.

SENIOR CHAPEL

"Alive with Eighty-Five"

The freshmen year, exciting and true,
With finding out roommates, and seeing who's who.

In W-10, our tests we did find,
With the Bible and Music and the MMPI.

After taking the test and finding we passed,
We finally knew we were freshmen at last.

First semester flew, with parties and class,
Second semester came . . . and OH what a blast!

January came . . . and boy did it snow,
The first four weekends, no church did we go . . . to.

Soon March was here with spring in our blood,
Only to find out we came back to a flood.

All day and all night kids put up a fight,
Especially the night we saved Pemberton dike.

All too soon the year came to a close,
It was good for the girls, 'cuz they ran out of hose.

The summer seemed long, but went by fast,
Reunited with friends, we're sophomores at last!

That there English proficiency ain't no fun,
Specially if ya gotsa take more than one.

Sadie Hawkins eventually came and went,
The girls realized it was money they shouldn't have spent.

Many girls' hearts became aglow,
On that one night Johnny Hughes became "Romeo."

The sophomore retreat sounded like a blast,
But the ones that signed up disappeared fast.

Once again the year came to a close,
And as usual, the girls ran out of hose.

We entered the year with style and grace,
Responsibility hit us right in the face.

Planning the banquet was our main job,
We set the date, and then had it rabbed.

Candy bars, hats, and cookies . . . good grief!
We lost half our money to the "Cookie Thief."

Back to the banquet . . . it came and went,
The guys realized it was money they shouldn't have spent.

The junior year ended much too quick,
Only one year left to make friendships stick.

The end of the tunnel has a light all aglow,
The senior year marks the end of our road.

Graduation was within our grasp,
With only the Bible exam to pass

Ordering announcements, caps and gowns,
Second semester began the "count down."

"Only so many days left" became the familiar phrase.
But for some . . . correspondence still stood in the way.

Passing Thea and Romans was "oh so fine,"
Soon to be walking the graduation line.

The friendships we've built are the kind that will last,
We'll always remember this part of our past

The Lord has blessed us and brought us through,
Out of the old and into the new

With this final word, we come to a close,
"Underclass women, stock up on hose!"

PROOFREADERS: Deb Rupp and Eunice Conrad

SPECIAL THANK YOU: Jon Winteregg, our representative and friend.

Jonah 4:9-10 has great meaning for the Vine staff. We ran across this verse during a time of frustration and uncertainty about the future of the staff and the progress of the yearbook. We've laughed, cried, and grown closer as a result of this verse.

As the city lights stand out and act as guides, so we, who are Christians, are also lights and should also stand out and act as guides. Matt. 5: 14-16

PSALM 150

Praise the Lord!
praise God in His sanctuary!
praise Him in His mighty heavens!
praise Him for His acts of surpassing
praise Him with trumpets, greatness.
praise Him with harps and lyres.
praise Him with drums and dancing.
praise Him with harps and flutes.
praise Him with loud cymbals.
praise Him with loud sounding
praise the Lord all cymbals
living creatures!
Praise the Lord!
